

Students trust you; we are here to help

The college going process can be overwhelming and confusing for students, which is why so many students turn to the people they trust to guide them — teachers, coaches, extra-curricular leaders like you. Now, you can sign up to receive information about events and webinars we are hosting for your students. We will send you flyers to share in your classrooms and around the school with information to help students plan, apply, and pay for college. We encourage all high school staff members who interact with juniors and seniors to sign up.
